

Company advertising / sponsoring as part of the 5th International Conference on Nanojoining and Microjoining (NMJ)

Dear Ladies and Gentlemen,

With the 5th International Conference on Nanojoining and Microjoining (NMJ), which takes place from November 27th to 29th, 2023 in the Radisson Blu Hotel in Leipzig, Germany, we offer an industrial exhibition which gives you the opportunity to advertise your company, products and capabilities. We provide exhibition stands and/or a 5-minute advertising impulse presentation for introducing your company to potential customers. Furthermore, it is possible to act as a sponsor; in this case, there is no need of personal presence in Leipzig.

The NMJ brings together scientists and manufactures coming from the field of micro and nano joining technology, thus encourages information exchange and discussion in terms of research results as well as associated applications and trends. For more information, please visit:

2023 is the first year in which the NMJ takes place in Germany. The organization of this event is carried out by the Group of Composites and Material Compounds at Chemnitz University of Technology. Based on the current registration situation and our knowledge of the past years and, an attendance of around 100 people from all over the world is expected.

The following FAQ will give you further information about the industrial exhibition and how you can participate.

For a definite registration, please send us the completed registration form by email. You will receive a confirmation from us afterwards.
